

Overview

Most people experience anxiety as being based in fear. They encounter an event, situation or a memory of the same and often describe their response as “fight or flight,”

